The San Francisco Art Institute

The San Francisco Art Institute was established in 1871 as the San Francisco Art Association with a dual goal of exhibition and education. In 1874 the Association founded a school of art and design which was the nucleus of the present College. After twenty years in rented quarters, the Association was given the turreted Nob Hill mansion of Mark Hopkins, where it maintained its school and gallery as the Mark Hopkins Institute of Art. Later the school was renamed the California School of Fine Arts and in 1926 moved into its present building on Russian Hill. In 1960 the Art Association and the College were combined under one name — the San Francisco Art Institute.

In each period of its history, the San Francisco Art Institute has been shaped by leading artists of the time. During its first sixty years, Maynard Dixon, William Keith, Xavier Martinez, Arthur Matthews, Gottardo Piazzoni, Diego Rivera, Ralph Stackpole and Maurice Sterne were influential in developing the Institute. After World War II, Clyfford Still, Mark Rothko and David Park taught in the fine arts; Ansel Adams, Edward Weston and Minor White in photography. In recent years, Elmer Bischoff, Nathan Oliveira, John Hultberg, Richard Diebenkorn, Frank Lobdell and Stanley William Hayter as well as other prominent artists have taught at the College.

At the present time, with a faculty of over fifty eminent artists and scholars, the College attracts an enrollment of over 700 students from throughout the United States and abroad.

The Objectives of the College

The purpose of the College of the San Francisco Art Institute is to teach art. This purpose requires a definition of teaching method and of subject matter. The method of teaching at the Institute is defined in the very traditional relation of master to student, of the more knowledgeable and experienced artist to the less knowing student. The subject matter of teaching at the Institute can be reduced to three aspects: (1) technique, the skills which can be taught; (2) form or visual organization, which can be demonstrated and understood by example from works of the past and the student's own work; and (3) expression, which arises from the student's own experience of life and which the master affects only by the example of his own way of life as an artist. Each teacher and each student finds his own combination of these three elements, and out of their endless permutations, stimulated by the variability and need of the individual's unique experience, comes the ceaseless conflict of contemporary art and the spiritual tension which is the life of the school.

So that this life and spiritual tension may be maintained and not perverted, three essentially moral attitudes must be shared by students and faculty. These moral attitudes are the maximum involvement of oneself in the development of art, the full commitment of one's life to the meanings of that art, and the bearing of responsibility for the results of that art on oneself and others.

Art is taught at the Institute by means of the teacher and the student coming together in a course, the planned pieces of time and space wherein their dialog may take place and the student may develop. Because we believe that knowledge of certain techniques is the basis for the later ones, that understanding of visual order becomes deeper, more subtle and complex with the passage of time, and that the student's life-experience becomes richer and more mature through the knowledge of the lives of other artists and civilizations, the many dialogs between teacher and student are planned as a series of courses — a curriculum. In the curriculum the humanities courses play a crucial though subordinate role because the present is the last moment of history, and as men of the present we can create with knowledge and power only if we understand the river of time and the space of the world which has been given us as the arena of our achievement.

The entire curriculum of the College is developed, its main points and their sequence and extent laid out, by the Director of the College in consultation with the chairmen of the various departments who in turn plan the curriculum with the department faculty. The curriculum is in a sense the core of the school, for it is the embodiment of our promise to provide information and experience from which the student may benefit to the extent of his ability and desire. This College Bulletin is the writing down of the curriculum in all its essential details and ramifications; it is the text of our contract with the student.

Admissions

Application Procedures

Undergraduate Applications Students who wish to enroll in either the Bachelor of Fine Arts or the Certificate of Completion programs must make formal application for admission and file transcripts with the Registrar, prior to the Application Deadline in the Academic Calendar. An application form will be found in the back of the bulletin. Applications will not be processed until all documents are on record with the Registrar. Applications filed after the Application Deadline cannot be assured processing. Filing applications and transcripts is the applicant's responsibility. Application forms may be obtained from the Office of the Registrar.

The Institute is developing a research program to determine what the valid criteria for entrance to an art school such as the Institute might be. Research will be in several fields, including previous high school or college grades, art ability as it may be indicated in a portfolio, and some short psychological tests designed to give indications of interests, values and personality. Information on the portfolio and copies of the psychological tests will be forwarded to applicants on receipt of the tuition deposit. See Financial Information. These materials will be used to amass data which may be studied when the college tries to evaluate the portfolio method, etc., as valid entrance requirements some years hence; they will not be used to determine eligibility for entrance to the College for present applicants. However, so that the figures some years hence will be statistically reliable, acceptance into the College will be contingent upon the applicant's completion of portfolio and entrance requirements prior to registration.

Transcripts The applicant should ask the high school of graduation and each college or university attended to send official and complete transcripts to the Registrar. All transcripts filed with the Registrar become the property of the College and cannot be returned to the applicant.

Graduate Applications See section on the Graduate Program.

Full-Time Special Students Students who wish to enroll for 12 or more units, but do not intend to work toward the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree or Certificate of Completion, must follow the Undergraduate Application procedure, including the filing of transcripts.

Part-Time Students Students enrolling for 8 through 11 units for credit must follow the Undergraduate Application procedure, including the filing of transcripts. Students enrolling for less than 8 units for credit must file transcripts with the Registrar before the registration period stated in the Academic Calendar. They need not, however, make formal application for admission, prepare portfolios nor pay an application fee.

Audit Students Audit (non-credit) students may enroll at any time for the full semester or any part thereof. Tuition is pro-rated accordingly. Auditors must be 18 years of age or older. Auditors need not file transcripts nor make application for admission.

Registration Priority for enrollment in all classes is given to full-time degree or certificate students, full-time credit students, part time credit students, and auditors, in that order.

Transfer Students

Transfer Units from accredited institutions of higher learning will be accepted insofar as courses and content relate to the BFA degree or certificate curriculum. Only grades of "C" or higher will be accepted.

Enrollment Transfer students will be assigned appropriate studio courses following evaluation of their transcripts. Their enrollment in these courses will be probationary in terms of class standing pending evaluation at the end of their first semester.

Foreign Students

The College is approved by the Immigration and Naturalization Service as a place of study for non-immigrant foreign students. Foreign students seeking admission to the College must observe the following regulations:

1. Applications for enrollment must be filed with the Registrar at least three months before registration (see Academic Calendar).
2. The applicant must prove adequate financing for the proposed period of study.
3. The applicant must prove a reasonable ability to read, write and speak English.
4. The applicant must secure a sponsor who is a United States citizen, and comply with all other government regulations of his home country and of the United States.

Admission Without a High School Diploma

Students without a high school diploma may be admitted if they:

1. are either over twenty-one years of age, or veterans honorably discharged following at least three full months of service, and
2. have achieved scores on College Entrance Examinations or on General Education Development tests which indicate ability to do satisfactory college-level work.

However, such persons, if admitted, may attain credit status only after successfully completing one semester of full-time study at the San Francisco Art Institute.

Veterans

The College of the San Francisco Art Institute is approved for study under Public Laws 16, 634, 894, and the new G. I. Bill, Public Law 89-358; and is also approved by the California Department of Veterans Affairs. Veterans enrolling under California state law must supply evidence of authority before registration.

Veterans enrolling under Public Laws 16, 634, 894 and 89-358 must present their certificates of eligibility at registration time. Those transferring from another school must file their "change of place of training" forms with the V. A. before registration.

Undergraduate students carrying at least 14 units a semester for credit and graduate students carrying at least 10 units a semester for credit are considered by the Veterans Administration to be on full-time status and receive their allowances on that basis.

Veterans may receive credit for certain specialized courses taken during military training when such credit does not duplicate previously obtained college credit, and if the content and quality of the work done are satisfactory. Those who have completed courses in the Armed Forces Institute should have transcripts of credit sent to the Registrar for evaluation. Veterans are responsible for signing monthly VA forms for subsistence and allowances. Filing dates may be obtained from the Registrar. Failure to comply with these regulations may delay receipt of benefits.

All questions regarding monthly payments, transfers, change of status, etc., are handled directly by the local V.A. office at 49 Fourth Street, San Francisco. Veterans are responsible for clearing all such details with the V. A. before and during their enrollment at the College. Supply allowances for veterans enrolled under Public Laws 16 and 894 may be obtained from the College store.

General Information

A student who is admitted to the College for a given semester, but who does not register, will have his admission cancelled. It will be necessary, in such cases, to reapply for admission to the College if the student wishes to enter at a later date.

Requirements for admission are subject to change as conditions demand.

The College reserves the right to change any course or instructor, to withdraw any course listed, and to modify or establish any fee as may be required.

Evening and Saturday School The College offers evening and Saturday afternoon classes in the fine arts for beginning, intermediate and advanced students. A bulletin of all evening and Saturday afternoon classes may be obtained from the Registrar.

Summer Session The College offers two five-week summer sessions of courses in the fine arts for beginning, intermediate and advanced students. A bulletin of these classes and additional information may be obtained from the Registrar.

Academic Information and Regulations

Master of Fine Arts Degree

The MFA is offered in painting, sculpture and printmaking. For requirements see page 44

Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree

Majors The College offers four-year degree programs with majors in painting, sculpture/ceramics, printmaking, and photography. A teacher orientation program prepares the student for graduate work leading to the General Secondary Credential. No double majors are permitted.

Requirements To be eligible for the BFA, the student must satisfactorily complete the prescribed curriculum in his major field. In addition, he must:

1. complete his final year at the College as a full-time student with a minimum of 30 units;
2. file a Petition for Graduation with the Dean at the beginning of his final semester at the College.
3. have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5 (C+).

Transfer Units from accredited institutions will be made wherever such units are in courses comparable to those in the Institute's degree program and the grade in such is a C or better.

Transfer Students from accredited institutions of higher learning will be required to take at least two semesters of Humanities.

English Classification Test Entering students without college transfer credits for English Composition are required to take an English classification test. Those who fail are required to take English fundamentals.

Honors The degree is awarded "with honors" if the cumulative grade point average is 3.25 or above, and "with highest honors" if the cumulative average is 3.6 or above.

Certificate of Completion

The Certificate of Completion may be conferred upon the satisfactory completion of the same number of units required for the BFA degree. Requirements for major fields, academic standards and residence are the same. The principal difference is that the student need take only the required freshman academic courses shown in the curriculum of his major field. He may substitute elective studio courses for humanities courses during the second, third and fourth years.

Academic Information

The Academic Year includes two fifteen-week semesters and two five-week summer sessions. The normal academic load for undergraduate students is 14-17 units per semester. A student who wishes to carry more than 17 units must have the approval of the Dean of Students.

Units A credit unit is based on the following amount of work done each week of the semester: 1.) One lecture hour plus two hours of assigned outside work, or 2.) Three hours of studio work, or 3.) Three hours of required outside work done by special arrangement with the department.

Grades The following grade point system is used: A—4 points; B—3 points; C—2 points; D—1 point; E—Incomplete; F—0 points; W—Withdrawal. If incomplete work is not made up within the first six weeks of the following semester, a final grade of "F" is given. A withdrawal does not affect the cumulative grade point average.

Academic Standards A credit student must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.0 (C) to remain in good standing. To be eligible for the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, the student must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5 (C+).

A student will be placed on scholastic probation if his cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0. Failure to improve his average during the semester of probation will result in dismissal from the College.

Courses Numbered 1-49 are primarily for freshman, 50-99 for sophomores, 100-149 for juniors and 150-199 for seniors. Graduate courses are numbered from 200. The College reserves the right to withdraw or change any course listed, to change instructors and to amend degree and certificate requirements.

Credit by Examination A currently enrolled student may receive credit by examination in a subject or subjects in which he is especially well-qualified by experience or private instruction. Petition for such examination may be made through the Dean's office. Such credit does not count toward the residence requirements for the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree.

Attendance is the student's responsibility and will be a factor in the determination of final grades. The student is expected to inform his instructors of the reasons for absence and to arrange to make up assignments. Each student also is responsible for completing all courses for which he is enrolled, with the exception of those which are dropped officially. (See regulations below.)

Change of Program and Withdrawal A student may not exchange one course for another, drop a course or make any other change in his program without first consulting an advisor and following established procedures. Courses may not be added or changed after the second week of the semester. Audit students may not apply for a change to credit status after the end of the second week of the semester.

General Information

Change of Major Students are required to have the approval of the department chairmen involved, as well as the Dean's Office, to change majors.

Withdrawal from a Class A student may drop a course without penalty during the first four weeks of the semester. Thereafter, the student will receive a grade of "F" unless in the opinion of the instructor and the administration, special circumstances should enable him to receive a grade of "W", which does not affect the cumulative grade point average.

Withdrawal from the College A student contemplating withdrawal from the college because of personal or academic problems should first consult an advisor.

Leave of Absence A student planning to discontinue his studies at the College for a temporary period must make a written request to the Dean of Students for a Leave of Absence.

Dismissal A student may be dismissed for academic failure or for any other reason considered sufficient and in the best interests of the student body and the College. A dismissed student may petition the Dean of Students for readmission.

Library The Institute's Anne Bremer Memorial Library contains over 13,000 books, half of which are devoted to the fine arts, half to the humanities and the sciences. The library also has a collection of reproductions, slides and periodicals on art and general subjects.

Supplies Supplies and text books may be purchased at substantial savings from the College store.

Lockers Lockers are provided free of charge and are assigned during Registration. All locker contents and student work must be removed by the last day of studio classes. The Institute exercises reasonable care to protect all student property; however, it does not assume responsibility for loss or damage to student work, locker contents or other personal property.

Cafeteria and Housing There is a cafeteria on campus. The College has no dormitories.

Health Services Although the College does not provide medical care, full-time students may participate in the Kaiser Foundation Hospital Plan. Students who wish to do so must register for the plan before October 25th of the fall semester and before March 25th of the spring semester.

Student Employment Students interested in employment should contact the Student Aid Officer following formal registration.

Student Exhibitions The College presents a large exhibition of student work following Commencement each year, as well as occasional exhibitions at other institutions. The College reserves the privilege of temporarily retaining student work for exhibition, and also reserves the right to reproduce and publish such work. Work so retained may not be removed by the student without proper authorization.

Scholarships

Scholarships in the Fine Arts totaling $33,000 will be offered by the College of the San Francisco Art Institute for the 1967/68 Academic Year. Of this amount $15,000 will be provided under a grant from the Ford Foundation.

Eligibility

Each applicant will be reviewed by the Scholarship Committee, which will make awards on the basis of outstanding promise and need.

High school graduates, high school students who will graduate in June, 1967, or January, 1968, students who have completed study at an institution of higher learning, and continuing students at the Institute are eligible. Only undergraduates planning to carry a minimum of 12 units and graduate students carrying 10 or more units will be considered for grants or scholarships. New students must file a formal application for admission and pay a $10 application fee before or at the same time as applying for a scholarship. Entering freshmen must have a B average from high school, and transfer or continuing students must have a 3.0 average on a 4.0 scale.

The College reserves the right to make changes in the specific amounts of individual scholarships under special circumstances, to review student performance at the end of the fall semester before continuing a scholarship for the spring semester, and to award only a part or none of the funds shown should the quality of work submitted be insufficient.

Scholarships for Entering Students

Artforum Scholarship In cooperation with Artforum magazine, full-tuition will be offered to one entering graduate or undergraduate student for the academic year 1967/68.

International Scholarship One full-tuition scholarship for 1967/68. Eligibility is limited to applicants who are citizens of a country other than the United States or its possessions.

Freshmen Scholarships Ten scholarships offering half-tuition for one year will be awarded to entering freshmen.

Scholarships for Continuing Students

Agnes Brandenstein Memorial Scholarship Awarded for advanced study in ceramics; applicants must have had previous training or work in ceramics.

Adaline Kent Scholarship Full-tuition for a continuing upper-division or graduate student of exceptional accomplishment in sculpture. The Adaline Kent Memorial Fund of the San Francisco Foundation provides the grant.

Wilfred P. Cohen Painting Scholarship Awarded to a continuing student for advanced study in painting.

Ellen Hart Bransten Memorial Scholarship Full-tuition for a continuing fourth-year student of exceptional promise in painting or printmaking.

Hector Escoba Scholarship Full-tuition granted to one upper division or graduate student in painting.

Six General Scholarships are offered in memory of Anne Bremer, Aline D. Gunst, Adelaide Lewis, James O. Phelan, Abraham Rosenberg, and Virgil Williams.

Graduate Scholarships See Master of Fine Arts Degree Program, page 44

Other Financial Aids

The College offers additional assistance to students through its participation in the United States Aid Fund and the Federal Educational Opportunity Grants Program. The College also offers a limited number of paid part-time jobs under the College's own program as well as the Federal College Work-Study Program to registered students.

Scholarship Applications

Application forms and further information on admission and scholarship may be obtained by writing the Registrar. Awards are announced in May of each year.

Applications for 1967-68 scholarships must be received by April 14, 1967; applications for the 1968-69 year must be received by April 15, 1968. Entering students applying for scholarships must complete the Parents' Confidential Statement, which may be obtained from the Institute's Registrar or from the College Scholarship Service, P.O. Box 1025, Berkeley, California.

Financial Information

Tuition Fees are payable in full at the time of registration for each semester. Checks and drafts are to be drawn to the order of the San Francisco Art Institute.

Tuition

1 - 11 units: $50 per unit per semester
12 - 17 units (full time): $600 per semester
Per unit above 17 units: $45 per semester

Deferred Payment of Tuition For those who prefer monthly tuition payments, deferred payment plans on a contract basis are available through Tuition Plan, Inc., an independent business concern, which requires a minimum contract of $500 per academic year. Complete information may be obtained from the Registrar at the Institute.

Application Fee—$10 This fee must accompany all applications for the Bachelor of Fine Arts, Master of Fine Arts or Certificate of Completion programs, and all students intending to carry 8 or more units, including those from students applying for scholarships and admission simultaneously. It does not apply to tuition and is not refundable.

Tuition Deposit—$50 Prior to registration for each semester, entering and continuing students who have been accepted for admission must make a non-refundable deposit of $50.00 which is applicable toward tuition and insures a place in the semester's classes. Students must complete their registration, including payment of tuition in full, on the appropriate registration day as shown on the Academic Calendar.

Change of Program Fee—$2.00 Charged for each program change after the close of registration.

Transcript Fee—$2.00 One transcript of academic record is issued without charge. Fee must accompany subsequent transcript request.

Personal Checks Returned Unpaid—$2.00

Reinstatement Fee—$5.00 Charged for the reinstatement to good standing of a student who has been suspended for any reason.

Late Registration Fee—$5.00 Charged to students registering for credit after the close of registration.

Withdrawals and Refunds Students are responsible for full tuition and fees incurred. Refunds may be made on tuition only and will not be authorized unless notice of withdrawal from a class or the College is filed in writing with the Registrar. Refunds, when applicable, are based on full tuition and will be allowed according to the following schedule: First week of semester—80%; Second week of semester—60%; Third week of semester—40%; Fourth week of semester—20%. Refunds will not be made after the fourth week of the semester, nor will they be made to students who are dismissed from the College. Any money owing the Institute is due on the day of withdrawal or dismissal from the College.

Unpaid Accounts The Registrar will not release grade reports, transcripts, degrees or certificates for any student whose account has not been paid in full, nor may a student whose account is delinquent register for subsequent semesters.

Undergraduate Painting

The curriculum for majors in painting has been designed to permit the student maximum involvement in his major field and to assure him the opportunity to experience within it the possibilities of a variety of media and techniques. Basic to the student's growth is association with master artist-teachers who present information, introduce ideas and intensify their demands at times appropriate to his development.

The relation of the artist-teacher to the student precludes the possibility of specific course descriptions for the studio courses in painting and drawing. The instructor is not asked to teach a syllabus covering specific material for presentation to all students in any class. Rather, he is asked to present material from his experience, convictions and technical knowledge in the order and at the rate which, in his judgement, will be best related to the needs of the individual student. In the various classes, however, it is expected that students will work from the model, still life, nature and imagination.

In each semester, the student takes a combined painting and drawing class of four or more units from one instructor. In addition to this painting/drawing combination and other required courses, he will usually take at least one other elective course in painting or drawing in the second, third and fourth years. A third or fourth year student may elect to take up to two additional units in any course in his major for which he is already enrolled for four or more units.

Printmaking

The graphic arts hold an important place in man's ability to communicate on the highest artistic level. Historical examples provide evidence of a potential for artistic significance far beyond that of commercial necessity. To this end, the printmaking faculty considers its primary responsibility to be the development of the printmaker as a fine artist.

The printmaking program provides the student with the opportunity for a continuing, intense experience with the printing forms. Courses are designed to supply him first, with all the instruction necessary for his development, and second, with a workshop environment conducive to his total involvement as a creative printmaker. Technical proficiency is an essential objective. However, this is considered important only in relationship to the complete mastery of the discipline as his primary means of expression. Required courses, as part of the fine arts curriculum, provide the background for this artistic development. The humanities program, plus a course in the history of prints, gives him the knowledge and the tools necessary for an intelligent analysis of himself and the world. The total synthesis of these experiences will enable the graduating student of graphics to be fully prepared to continue the process of individual self-creation into a mature artist printmaker.

E. Gunter Troche

PhD, University of Munich. Director of Achenbach Foundation for Graphic Arts; former Director of the Germanic National Museum, Nuremberg. Author of several books and articles on the history of art.

Photography

The main purpose of the program is to develop the highly creative photographer, one capable of making photography a fine art and a life's work. The program is designed to stimulate the student into using the camera as a tool to probe the world around him, and thereby to sharpen his perceptivity.

A twofold challenge underlies each problem assigned: first that every student be encouraged to work out an altogether individual solution, and then, that the photographs be evaluated primarily in terms of how successfully they communicate their maker's intentions. All peripheral study — of photography's history, of its leading practitioners and their philosophies — will focus on the same issue: that the compelling, communicative potential of good photography relies upon the aesthetic integration of technical dexterity and clear, perceptive seeing.

Undergraduate Sculpture/Ceramics

The curriculum for majors in sculpture/ceramics has been designed to present the student maximum involvement in his major field and to assure him the opportunity to experience within it the possibilities of a variety of media and techniques. Basic to the student's growth is association with master artist-teachers who present information, introduce ideas and intensify their demand at times appropriate to his development.

The relation of the artist-teacher to the student precludes the possibility of specific course descriptions other than general indications of media and level of advancement. The instructor is not asked to teach a syllabus covering specific material for presentation to all students in any class. Rather he is asked to present material from his experience, convictions and technical knowledge in the order and at the rate which, in his judgement, will be best related to the needs of the individual student.

The curriculum is planned to introduce the student to a variety of sculptural forms and concepts during the first year. The second and third years continue the emphasis on variety, while giving greater depth of understanding and experience in each of the changing areas of media and expression in contemporary sculpture. The fourth year allows the student maximum opportunity to pursue and deepen his personal direction in sculpture.

Ceramics courses stress the tradition wherein a pottery vessel is regarded as a unique and beautifully rendered statement rather than a product of utilitarian design. In addition to pottery, fired clay sculpture constitutes a large part of ceramics courses. To make the full spectrum of color available to the student, all firing is done in low temperature range. Students desiring the designation "Ceramics" in their BFA degree are required to take all ceramics courses for maximum credit, thus insuring the minimum total of 20 ceramic units for the degree.

Teacher Orientation

The undergraduate major in painting, sculpture/ceramics, printmaking or photography, may be supplemented by a program of courses in teacher orientation, thus preparing the student for graduate work in art education. Elective units must be selected in programs other than the major. Interested students will work directly with the department chairman for teacher orientation, so a curriculum of supporting and supplementary courses may be planned. Under this program the minimum BFA requirement is increased 5 units in all majors.

A student planning to work toward one of the State of California teaching credentials following graduation from the Institute should have fulfilled the following requirements:

- (1) He should have successfully completed two semesters of senior high school laboratory science or four semester hours of college or university laboratory science. If this requirement has not been met before admission, the student will be required to complete it elsewhere during his enrollment and prior to his graduation.
- (2) He should also have completed the undergraduate language and mathematics credential requirements in preparation for graduate study.
- (3) It is also recommended that the student complete Educational Psychology (8 units) at San Francisco State College during the summer between the third and fourth years.

Required supplementary courses in humanities and teacher orientation are:

186. Directed Writing

Individual projects in one of the forms of creative writing, or expository writing. Prerequisites: "B" average in English 30, or equivalent, and advisor's permission. One semester course, 3 units.

190. Teacher Orientation

General principles, objectives and functions of art education. Public and private school observation. Curriculum organization, evaluation, history, trends. School organization. Audio-visual and curriculum materials and laboratory work. Two semester course. First semester, 2 units. Second semester, 3 units.

196. Public and Group Discussion

Fundamentals of articulation, semantics, group dynamics and individual presentation. One semester course, 2 units.

Humanities

The humanities curriculum is an integrated four-year course of studies. It concerns itself with the history of mankind, approaching that history through comparative study of the forms, the processes and the achievements of civilization from pre-history to the present.

The program is self-contained. It includes, by definition, studies in mythology and religion, history and political science, philosophy, literature, art history, the social sciences and science. Enrollment in the program is required of all candidates for the BFA degree. No electives are offered in the humanities. The program may not be taken as a major.

The student attends two lectures each week, and is assigned to a seminar study-group. Lectures are delivered both by the College faculty and by guest lecturers who are authorities in given fields. Seminars are presided over by the College faculty. It is here that the student does individual work, researching in depth various specific areas relative to the lectures for oral and written presentation.

Humanities Curriculum

47A. Humanities

Introduction. Prehistory. Primitive and Pre-Columbian Civilizations.

Lectures introductory to the four-year course as a whole: studies in methodology, in modes of approach to the study of mankind. Application of methodology to study of prehistoric and primitive man. The art, creation myths and social organization of various tribal societies of Africa, North and South America, Micronesia and Melanesia. A study and analysis of the great Pre-Columbian civilizations. 5 units.

47B. Humanities

The Early Near East. Greek and Roman Civilizations.

The ancient world: Sumer, the Tigris-Euphrates Valley, Egypt. The Hebrews and The Old Testament. A study of the history, literature, art, philosophy, and science of the ancient world, and an attempt to discern in what ways it was "the cradle of civilization." Transition to the world of Greece. The Classical Civilization: a study of its organic nature and of its historic influence on western man. The Roman Civilization. Early Christianity. 5 units.

97A. Humanities

Transition to the Middle Ages. Islam. The Middle Ages. Prerequisite: C or better in 47B or equivalent, or by permission of the department.

The Changing World. Two Great Religions. The New Testament. The Koran. Augustine and Aquinas. Conversion in the North. Early Britain. Anglo-Saxon literature. The Sagas. Islamic history and literature. The Middle Ages in Europe. Church History. Art and literature as expressions of the Medieval mind. Medieval science and economics. 5 units.

97B. Humanities

The Culture of the Far East: India, Southeast Asia, China, Japan.

The nature and influence of the early Far Eastern Civilizations. Buddhism. Hinduism. The Bedas. Confucius, The Analects. The Han Classics. Zen. Art and architecture of the Far East. Oriental music, dance, and theater. Ancient China. Studies in comparative culture. 5 units.

From Giotto to Shakespeare. The emergence of early modern individualism. Renaissance science and the scientific ideal. The Italian city-state. Rise of the European state system. The emergence of capitalism. The Renaissance church. The great age of Italian painting and sculpture. Humanism in France and Italy. The voyages of discovery. The Reformation. Counter-Reformation. Elizabethan England. 5 units.

147B. Humanities

The Emergence of the Modern World: 1650-1850.

Monarchy: the Age of Louis XIV. Newton and the "New Science." Restoration drama. Baroque art. The Age of Enlightenment. The triumph of trade. The rise of the novel. The Age of Revolution: political and philosophical, industrial, scientific. The great American experiment. Napoleon and the Age of Restoration. The Romantic Movement. The crucial 19th Century philosophers. U. S. History to 1850. 5 units.

197A. Humanities

Roots of Contemporary Culture: the Late 19th and Early 20th Centuries. Nationalism and imperialism. Consequences of the Industrial Revolution. Liberalism and democracy in the late 19th Century. Dostoevski and the psychological novel. The German expressionist theater. Symbolism and impressionism in the arts. Individualism and isolation: Nietzsche, Kierkegaard, Freud, Marx and the political economists. Late imperialism and the power struggle. The epoch of World War I. 5 units.

197B. Humanities

The Contemporary World. The thought, belief, and attitudes of the modern world, as expressed in politics, war, economics, social organization, art, literature, philosophy, and science. Implications of the new internationalism. The triumph of science. The exploration of space. The search for identity and ideal. Present problems of the future. 5 units.

A. English Fundamentals

Elementary composition and intensive review of fundamentals of English grammar. Must be taken by all students who fail the English Classification Test. One semester course. 2 units, non credit.

30A. B. English Composition

Expository, narrative and descriptive writing. Varied readings. Prerequisite—successful completion of English Classification test or English A. 2 units per semester.

33A. B. Modern Art History

Major schools and artists of the western world from the 19th Century to the present. 1 unit per semester.

199. Special Studies

Open to outstanding, advanced students. Work guided by faculty consultation. 1-6 units.

Master of Fine Arts in Painting, Sculpture and Printmaking

The Master of Fine Arts Program is open to individuals of superior capability and exceptional promise in either painting, sculpture or printmaking. The period of graduate study should serve as a transition from the undergraduate apprenticeship to the individual's emergence as a fully independent artist.

Students are selected for the graduate program mainly on the basis of work in which an artistic individuality is already evident, and which shows a level of development beyond the need of classroom aid or encouragement. Students are expected to be capable of prolonged and concentrated effort, guided largely by goals and principles which they have already set for themselves. The masters program is mainly concerned with providing such individuals with the opportunity and encouragement for the further development of their work.

Graduate Curriculum

Program of Study The program requires two years to complete; however, it may be shortened to three semesters in exceptional cases. The minimum program of 30 units is normally completed during the first three semesters, and the fourth semester consists of continued studio work in the major field. Courses during the first three semesters are as follows:

205. Philosophy and History of Art Seminars
2 units per semester

208. Advanced Studies Seminars in Painting and Sculpture, 2 units per semester

209. Advanced Studies Seminars in Printmaking, 2 units per semester (Prerequisite 103A, B, History of Printmaking; 124, Typography. These may be taken concurrently with the seminar.)

299. Studio Work in the Major Field, 6 units per semester

Transferring applicants, especially those holding a degree other than the BFA, may be required to take additional courses, which might lengthen their program beyond the normal time, two years.

Seminars In addition to a program of studio work in the major field, there are weekly seminars in the major field and in the philosophy and history of art in which all students participate. The group is small enough for each student to show examples of his work several times during each semester, and for everyone to take part in the critical discussion. Considerable stress is placed on this procedure, which requires the student to respond actively to a wide range of work, to discuss what he sees and thinks about it, and to have his ideas variously challenged, supplemented and encouraged by others in a group whose aim is to achieve as much clarity and understanding as possible.

The emphasis in one seminar is on critical examination of the work presented. In the course of these sessions, specific and general problems of art continuously arise. These are taken up in greater detail in the second weekly seminar, drawing upon historical material and aesthetic analysis. Guest artists frequently participate in both seminars, as do critics and writers living in and visiting the area.

These seminars, combined with the full-time schedule of studio work, provide the student with a more informed confidence in his own artistic concerns, as well as with an increased awareness of his position in relation to art of the past and present.

Graduate Admissions

Standards of Admission Standards of admission are set by the Graduate Committee. Holders of a bachelors degree who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 (B) or better are academically qualified for admission to the program. However, academic qualification is secondary to the quality of creative work.

Admission Without a Previous Degree Individuals with outstanding creative qualifications, but without previous academic degrees, may be accepted into the program, but such acceptance will be contingent on their completing a full semester of upper division undergraduate work at the SF Art Institute with a grade point average of 3.0 (B) or better.

Admission Without the MFA Degree as an Objective Individuals of superior promise who wish to do special advanced work in painting or sculpture without commitment to the full program, may also be considered for admission.

Application Requirements The applicant must submit the following to the Graduate Program Committee for his major on or before the Application Deadline stated in the calendar:

1. Completed application form (obtainable from the Registrar).
2. Transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate study (these should be sent directly from the institutions attended.)
3. Six (6) examples of work in the major field which may be submitted by slides, and a representation of drawings. Work submitted must have been completed within the 18 months immediately preceeding application. The approximate date of completion must be indicated on each work. An inventory list must accompany the examples.
4. A statement concerning the applicant's work and his reasons for embarking on a program of graduate study.

When these requirements have been met, a tentative program will be prepared for the applicant's general guidance.

Foreign Student applicants must meet the same standards required of domestic applicants.

Readmission Should any reasons other than scholarship compel a student to discontinue his studies, he may be readmitted to the program by making a new application to the Committee.

MFA Degree Requirements

Program Completion Requirements The minimum program of courses stipulated by the Committee must be completed within the minimum period of three consecutive semesters or the maximum period of three calendar years. This three-year period may be extended to accommodate interruptions deemed unavoidable by the Committee.

Students must file a Petition for Graduation with the Dean of Students at the beginning of their final semester at the College.

The degree will be awarded only on successful completion of the comprehensive examination for the MFA degree. The examination consists of a one-man show of the candidate's work, the material for this exhibition to be submitted to the Committee at least four weeks prior to the time of conferring the degree as requested in the candidate's petition. One work from the show becomes the property of the College upon the conferring of the degree.

Graduate Scholarships

Scholarships for second, third and fourth semester graduate students are available to students of proven financial need. Second semester students receive one-half tuition scholarships; third and fourth semester students receive full tuition scholarships. Applicants must file appropriate statements of financial need which may be obtained from the Registrar.

Application for Admission

See Application and Admission procedures in the College Bulletin before completing the application.

Note: Part time students taking fewer than eight units do not fill this form.

Foreign Students:

If you are a foreign applicant, you must complete and return this application three months before date of registration. If you are accepted for admission the College will send you a Certificate of Eligibility. It must be completed and returned to the Registrar before the processing of your application can be completed. You must also write the name and address of your United States sponsor in the space below.

Sponsor's Name _____

Important:

All applications must include a $10 application fee. This payment must accompany the application; it is not refundable and does not apply toward tuition. A $50 non-refundable tuition payment is necessary before class space can be held. This non-refundable tuition applies only for the semester of application.

Before the application can be processed, all transcripts from previous schools must be received by the Registrar of the College.

In signing this application, I fully acknowledge the above limitations.
